Put On Your Thinking-Cap,

And take up the question of Pearline. Do you think it could have reached such an enormous success, if it hadn't possessed every merit that has been claimed for it? Do you think that millions of women would be using it every day, as they do, if they knew of anything like it for washing and cleaning? Do you think it could have grown so rapidly and so wonderfully, if women were not enthusiastic about it, talking of it urging their friends to use it? Do you think that hundreds of millions of packages could have been used, as they have been, if there were anything that could be said against it?

P.S.—Don't you think you had better try a little Pearline, to your own saving and profit?

Germany Exacts Condition---Difficult to Understand Exact Situation---Last Week of the War Entered Upon---Greeks Recapture Pentipigadia---Retired From Larissa in Order.

(Copyright '97, by the Associated Press.)

London, April 25. What seems likely to be the last week of the war is entered upon today.

It is difficult from the tangle of conflicting telegrams to understand the exact position of affairs.

Following the Greek defeats at Larissa, London opinion today is almost unanimous that the end is in sight, and this view is probably shared by the powers as they are already moving to intervene.

It is believed intervention will take the form of a suggestion of armistice to which the combatants would no doubt agree.

Since yesterday the foreign office has been in close communication with the other powers, Great Britain suggesting that the time has now arrived for them to act. France, Germany and Italy have responded, offering to agree, though Germany adds as a condition that it will be necessary first to exact a pledge from Greece to obey the mandate of Europe when given.

Great Britain will agree to this undertaking as the disasters which have overtaken her have demonstrated that Turkey still possesses a formidable fighting machine, which must have a sobering effect at Athens and which will permit Greece to climb down without disgrace after a super vindication of the courage of their troops and of Hellenic patriotism.

If the Greeks listen to reason and the arguments pressed by England at Athens and by Russia at Constantinople, it is not improbable a decision will be reached by Tuesday.

The situation is curious and perplexing. Each day there have been actions carried out with every circumstance of war by one organized army against the other; yet so far as is known, here, there has been no declaration of war.

The Turks have invariably been the aggressors and when the Greeks have repelled the enemy and followed them up orders have been invariably received compelling them to stop just short of the complete occupation of the conquered positions.

These orders in many cases have involved the abandonment of the fruits of fighting with loss. The Greeks can only suppose that political, instead of army reasons govern the situation.

Gloom at Athens.

Athens, April 25. It is useless to deny that a very gloomy view of war prospects is taken here by the better informed.

There are, however, no signs of a panic.

The city exhibits an attitude of dignified endurance, while many still show an unabated enthusiasm for fight.

The Crown Prince is severely criticised for his non-offensive policy, it being called idiotic and un-Grecian.

The retreat to Pharsalli is considered a poor response to the fiery speeches of the Crown Prince to his troops.

Turks Jubilant.

Constantinople, April 25. The triumphant march of the Turkish army has caused the liveliest satisfaction here.

Withdrew in Order.

London, April 25. The Vienna correspondent of the News says in a telegram to King George yesterday the crown prince said: "We withdrew in perfect order. Telegraph instructions."

King George replied: "If possible defend Larissa. If not possible then obey necessity."

Reported Descent of Turks.

Athens, April 25. A report reaches here that a Turkish force of 12,000 has descended on Derdi.

The Greeks have retreated to Makrychori.

It would appear, however, that the position at Revenl itself and Boughasi is unaltered.

The Greeks, at orders from the Crown Prince, stopped just short of seizing Damasi.

Greeks Retired.

Molouna, April 24.—(Evening). News has reached here that this morning the Greeks evacuated Krikiri.

The Turks captured three Greek villages late last evening (Friday).

Recaptured by Greeks.

Athens, April 25. A telegram from Arta today, dated 4 p. m., says that at 9 this morning fighting was resumed at Pentipigadia and raged fiercely for several hours. The Greeks were compelled to withdraw, but on being reinforced, re-attacked the fort and finally captured it, the Turks retiring without offering much resistance. The Greeks suffered severely.

The Greek fleet is bombarding Neopolis.

Larissa Evacuated by Greeks.

Athens, April 24, 5:40 p. m. Larissa has been completely evacuated by the Greeks who spiked their guns in position and carried away all of the movable cannon and munitions of war.

The Turkish forces yesterday noon strongly attacked Mati, which was defended by Gen. Manuphos' brigade. After six hours' fighting a council of war, presided over by the crown prince, decided to order the retreat of the Greek forces from Tyrnavos. The retreat was effected in good order.

Ricciotti Garibaldi has arrived here and was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

The following semi-official announcement was made this afternoon:

"In a fierce engagement at Mati yesterday our troops fought heroically until 6 o'clock in the evening, and compelled the Turks to retreat. Whereupon the Turks were heavily reinforced, our positions were shaken, and a retreat was ordered. It is not yet known whether the retreat was general."

A second dispatch from the headquarters staff says:

"Our troops are concentrated along the line of Pharsalos, in consequence of the operations, the abandonment of Tyrnavos and Larissa being considered inevitable."

Preparing for Decisive Blow.

Paris, April 24. A Constantinople dispatch, received this evening, states that Osman Pasha's plan of campaign is to recall all the Turkish forces in Epirus, leaving only a strong garrison at Janina, and abandon the rest of the province.

The Turkish army in Epirus would thus be able to effect a junction with the Ottoman forces in Thessaly by marching northward around the mountains dividing the two provinces. Osman Pasha would eventually have the whole Turkish force at his disposal and would be able to deal a decisive blow.

Greece Will Persevere Against Turkey.

Athens, April 25. The Greek government has decided to persevere in the struggle with Turkey and to resist the further advance of the army with greater energy than hitherto displayed.

It is officially declared that the new lines of defences are stronger than the frontier where the Turks gained their advantage in consequence of the superiority of their positions.

About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the official in charge of the telegraph office at Larissa, observing a cloud of dust raised by the advancing cavalry of the Turks, asked leave to dynamite the office. He was directed to leave it. Since 3.30 p. m. Saturday, the Larissa office has made no response to calls from Athens.

A despatch from Revenl says that Edhem Pasha, on learning that the Greeks had been ordered to fall back, attempted to deliver a crushing blow with a considerable force which had been resting 36 hours and succeeded in breaking through the Greek lines in several places.

A despatch from Arta reports that the Greeks have captured Plaka.

Another despatch says Plaka and Pentepigadia have been occupied by the Greeks after being abandoned by the Turks, who have also abandoned Kritzili.

Col. Manos in force has advanced beyond Pentepigadia en route to Janina.

It is reported at Arta that a rising has occurred in the interior of Epirus.

Osman Pasha to the Front.

Salonica, April 25. Osman Pasha arrived here last evening and was received with great enthusiasm. He went forward at once to the scene of conflict.

Greek subjects here are agreeing to place themselves under the Turkish authorities upon consideration that they will be allowed to remain.

Fall of Larissa Confirmed.

Washington, April 25. The Turkish legation here has received the following despatch from the minister of foreign affairs at Constantinople, confirmatory of the press despatches of the fall of Larissa. The despatch is dated today:

"Larissa has been occupied today by the cavalry of the Ottoman army. The Hellenic troops fled in disorder, abandoning a great quantity of arms and ammunition."

Auxiliary Committee Organized.

New York, April 24. An auxiliary committee, having for its object the care of the Cretan refugees and the furthering of the work of the Red Cross Society in the hospitals and on the battlefields of the Greco-Turkish war, has been formed by the ladies of the Greek community in this city. An appeal for pecuniary aid has been issued and the Chamber of Commerce has opened a subscription list.

CLOUDBURSTS AND RUIN.

Great Damage Was Done in the Indian Territory.

Farm Houses and Crops Washed Away, Causing a Heavy Loss.

The Latest Reports of Flood Situation Tell of Continued Devastation.

Ottumwa, Iowa, April 25. The river broke over the levees last night and flooded the bottoms, carrying several houses down stream. Today in some places the water is above the first story.

The Burlington main line track is impassable and hundreds of men are at work attempting to prevent damage to the other line. The situation is critical, but it is not believed that the Burlington will keep the main line open.

The Wabash and Milwaukee tracks are gone for a distance of 200 feet and both roads are tied up. The Rock Island has miles of track under water. No attempt is being made to run trains.

The river was rising slowly tonight.

Widespread Ruin.

Dallas, Tex., April 25. A special from Eufaula, I. T., says:

A series of cloudbursts, heavy winds and rain storms occurred in and around Eufaula last night and extended over about 100 square miles of territory.

Farm houses, fences and crops were washed away to an extent announting to a calamity.

GREEK EASTER SUNDAY.

A Sad Throng Celebrated the Day in New York.

New York, April 25. It was a solemn and sad faced crowd that filled the little Greek Church early Sunday morning, when Greek Easter Sunday services were held.

The day is usually one of great festivity, but news from home had a most depressing effect upon the little gathering. Father Agathedhros A. Rapagorgiopoulous officiated. The Gregorian chant was sung and responded to by Consul General Botassi, who stood at the priest's side. Services were continued intermittently all day Sunday. Some of the prominent members of the congregation attended and the ancient Greek custom of breaking eggs was observed.

Ex-Lieut. Farrow Arrested.

New York, April 25. Edward S. Farrow, formerly a lieutenant in the United States Army, was arrested at the Grand Central depot here today on a requisition papers charging him with conspiracy in Pittsburg, Pa., where he is wanted.

Farrow claims that he gave himself up voluntarily and met the detectives by appointment. He is charged with being engaged in insurance frauds in Pittsburg. He declares that he is anxious to go to Pittsburg to stand trial.

Farrow said that he had determined to carry on an aggressive policy toward his persecutors and gave out a long statement in which he gave his side of the case.

Excitement Quieting Down.

Alexandria, Va., April 25. The excitement of last night growing out of the sensational reports that the negroes would attack the city in revenge for the lynching of McCoy Friday night, had entirely subsided to-day.

In a few places the people gathered in small crowds to discuss the doings of last night but there was no excitement. Large numbers of people from Washington came over the city today attracted by curiosity. Among these were a good many colored persons, but they were of the peaceable class from whom no trouble will result.

Bangor Wins a Case.

Augusta, Me., April 25. The law court has rendered the following decision: Inhabitants of Bangor vs. Inhabitants of Orneville, to recover for support of insane persons at hospital. Judgment for plaintiff, for $101.62 with interest from Dec. 10, 1894.

State vs. J. F. Thomas for illegally having partridges in possession for shipment out of the State. Demurrer overruled. Case to stand for trial.

Rockland Newspaper Man Dead.

Rockland, Me., April 25. John B. Porter, business manager and part owner of the Rockland Courier-Gazette, died this morning from creeping paralysis after an illness of three months.

Mr. Porter has been identified with journalism in this city for 25 years. With his father he published for years the Rockland Gazette. His age was 52 years. He was highly esteemed.

Alleged Pickpocket Picked.

New York, April 25. James Wallace, 30 years of age, of Lowell, Mass., was arraigned in the Yorkville police court today on a charge of having on Saturday afternoon mixed in a crowd at 8 sixty-eighth street and Columbus avenue, with the intention, the police said, of picking pockets.

The police gave Wallace a bad record and Magistrate Simms remanded him for examination.

Suicide While Insane.

Beverly, Mass., April 25. The body of Walter C. Abbott, of Cozzens street, Salem, was picked up in the river here today.

Abbott has been known for some time to have been temporarily insane and it is supposed that he committed the act while in that condition.

Passed Four Icebergs.

New York, April 25. The White Star freight steamer Georgia, Captain Thompson, which arrived this morning from Liverpool, reports that on April 21, in Lat. 42.30, Lon. 49.24 to Lat. 42.15, Lon. 51, she sighted four immense icebergs, the largest of which was 155 feet high.

Togus Veteran Asphyxiated.

New York, April 25. Frederick Hoffman, a Union veteran of the Ninth New York Volunteers, on furlough from the Soldiers' Home at Togus, Maine, was accidentally asphyxiated by illuminating gas in the Hotel Hatfield today.

BUSINESS AT STANDSTILL.

Nothing Likely to be Done in Congress This Week for Various Reasons.

Washington, April 25. There will not be a quorum in the Senate during the present week owing to the absence of a large number of Senators in New York, in attendance upon the ceremonies over General Grant's tomb. Consequently no business of importance will be transacted. Probably a majority of the Senators desire to adjourn from Monday until Thursday and from Thursday again until Monday without transacting any business of general moment, and this programme is likely to be followed.

If the wishes of the Republican members of the Finance Committee are acceded to, the tariff bill will be reported Thursday, but it is most probable that this will be postponed until next week.

The work of preparing for the reorganization of the Senate committees will proceed informally.

Under the arrangements made on Friday the House will transact no business this week. The House will meet formally tomorrow and adjourn until Thursday when an adjournment will be taken until Monday.

YOUNG PARDONED

By the Executive Council—Pardon for Mrs. Glynn Refused.

Augusta, Me., April 24. The governor and council today gave a hearing on the petition for the pardon of George B. Young, of Ellsworth. Young was sentenced for four years for an alleged assault on his brother's wife, Mrs. Charles C. Young, with a pitchfork. Testimony was introduced to show that Young did not assault her at all, and that he was sentenced for a crime he did not commit. The council voted to pardon him.

John F. Robinson, of Bangor, appeared for the pardon of Mary Glynn, of Hampden, who has served 15 years of a life sentence for murdering the illegitimate child of her week-minded daughter. It was shown that she was under great mental strain at the time, and it was claimed that her punishment had been sufficient. If liberated her son would give her a home.

A letter was read from Chief Justice Peters, before whom the woman was tried, in which he said that at the time he had much sympathy for her. He had thought then that some time she ought to be released and he still had that opinion. Although the presentation was a strong one, and the petition was long and bore on it the names of many prominent citizens of Bangor, the council voted to give the petitioners leave to withdraw.

Action on other pardon cases was postponed.

BASE BALL.

President Young Rules on Earned Run—Games Saturday and Sunday.

Washington, April 25. President Nick E. Young of the National Base Ball League makes the following announcement:

"To base ball scorers: I have received several communications asking for an official interpretation of the rule (section 9, rule 71) relating to earned runs.

"An earned run is a run that reaches home base without the aid of a fielding or battery error. A 'stolen base' cannot cut any figure, although there is no chargeable error, still some one is in fault in one of several ways which would not justify the scoring of a fielding error. A base runner who makes a base hit and is advanced a base by a successful sacrifice hit is entitled to the credit of an earned run if he reaches home base before chances have been offered to retire his side. The section must be considered intelligently as a whole and not in part and admits of no other fair interpretation."

Going Home to Fight.

New York, April 24. To the strains of the Greek national anthem, with banners flying and shrieking "vivas" the Greek patriots and their escort arrived at the dock and marched to the end of the French line pier this morning. Their progress through the streets had been one long triumphal procession, men stopping all along the line to cheer the warriors on. The 450 marched on board La Champagne and lined up at the side of the boat, facing their compatriots on the deck.

Cheer after cheer rent the air, again and again was heard the cry, "Nike e thanatos" ("victory or death").

James Patterson, the local representative of the national league, made an impassioned speech, trusting that the men would give a good account of themselves.

The cheering redoubled in vigor as the vessel put out into the stream, and the patriots rushed to the stern of the vessel to respond to the "vivas" and waved "au revoirs" to the friends on the pier whom they might never see again.

Neutrality Laws are Strict.

Washington, April 24. The State Department has received no inquiry from Greek consuls in this country regarding their right to get up a subscription for equipping a Greek regiment in the United States, which project has been alluded to in the newspapers, but the law on the matter is so well defined that such a request would require especial consideration.

Funds may be subscribed in this country to aid either Turks or Greeks, arms and war munitions may be sold to either side, they accepting the risk of getting them across the water to their destinations. But the neutrality laws apply strictly, and, as the United States is on friendly terms with both combatants, the organization of a hostile expedition against either nation can under no circumstances be permitted on our soil nor will it be allowed to depart from the United States on such a mission.

The law does not interfere with the movements of individuals who may desire to return to their native lands.

Woman Died at Sea.

Halifax, N. S., April 25. The Allan mail steamer Laurentian arrived from Liverpool early this morning after a rather boisterous passage.

On Wednesday last one of the passengers, Elizabeth Hayes, who with her husband were on their way to Winnipeg, became suddenly ill and Thursday night died. She was exhumed to be sent on next day, Capt. Brown conducting the burial service.

GRANT DAY.

Everything in Readiness for the Grand Demonstration.

Not Long But Stormy Weather Can Prevent the Exercises Being Notable.

The City Filling Up and the Grand Rush Will Begin this Morning.

New York, April 25. The White Squadron left its anchorage off Tompkinsville, S. I., early this morning and sailed up the North river to its new anchorage off Grant's Tomb, where it will remain until Wednesday or Thursday.

Large crowds gathered at the Battery and the piers of the North river front to see the vessels pass by. The New York, the flagship of the squadron, with Admiral Bunce in command, took the lead. The despatch boat Dolphin, from which President McKinley will review the naval parade, brought up the rear.

All in Readiness.

New York, April 25. Nothing but the wrath of the elements can prevent Grant day from being a glorious one.

Everything is in readiness. The city is filling up and the great rush towards New York will begin tomorrow.

THE MAINE PARTY.

Went to Boston Sunday on Way to New York for Grant Ceremonies.

Augusta, Me., April 25. A number of prominent people left Augusta this morning to meet Gov. Llewellyn Powers in Boston, and thence proceed to New York to attend the dedication of the Grant mausoleum. Gov. Powers left for Boston Saturday afternoon, and was preceded by Mrs. Powers, who went Friday. The Governor's staff and members of the executive council will be included in the party together with state officials. They will arrive in Boston from various parts of the state.

Among those who left on this morning's train were Hon. Orramandel Smith, the Governor's private secretary; Hon. Byron Boyd, secretary of state; Councillors Collin and Spofford; State Treasurer S. M. Simpson; Col. I. N. Stetson, Dr. A. C. Hamlin and Dr. E. F. Singer, of Bangor; Hon. Wainwright Cushing, ex-councillor, of Foxcroft; also Col. Philbrook, of the 2nd regiment, N. G. S. M., who with Col. L. H. Kendall, of Biddeford, and Lieut. Morton, of Portland, will temporarily serve on the staff, representing the Maine militia. Sergeant C. H. Blackington, of Company F, 1st regiment, of Augusta, will be the Governor's color bearer. There were a number of ladies in the party. The party was due to arrive in Boston at 4 p. m. Others were expected to join it en route.

The Party in Boston.

Boston, April 25. Gov. and Mrs. Powers, of Maine, arrived here Saturday night and registered at the Parker House. This afternoon the governor's room was besieged with callers.

This afternoon the Maine party arrived and stopped at the Parker House.

AN INFORMAL CONFERENCE

Of the National Democracy in New York City.

New York, April 25. An informal conference of the representatives of the National Democracy from several States and a number of gold Democracy men from this city and Brooklyn was held this afternoon at the Reform Club. Most of those who took part in the conference are in this city on account of the Reform Club dinner at Delmonico's last night and intend to remain until after the Grant ceremonies. The object of the meeting was to ascertain the state of the organization throughout the country and the means that are being taken to preserve it intact. No business was transacted and the only thing that came out of the conference was the information given by the visitors about the organization in their respective states.

Plans for a future course of action were not discussed and the relations of the party to city politics were not talked about. No call for a future conference was decided upon, that being left to the general committee.

THE OAKLAND TRAGEDY.

Inquest Continued by the Coroner—Mystery Developing.

Woonsocket, R. I., April 25. Coroner Granger continued his inquest into the Oakland tragedy today. As the evidence accumulates it becomes more uncertain that Martin Mowry ever committed the triple murder, for which he is now under arrest. The difficulty up to the present time has been to locate Reynolds and the fifteen year old girl in the house at the time of the fire.

Charles F. Budlum testified to hearing four or five cartridges explode in Mowry's closet during the fire.

Martin V. Smith, a farmer, thought the bayonet found in the ruins was his, but was not sure.

Deputy Sheriff Inman, of Burrillville, told of his visit to Reynolds' place the morning of the fire. When he arrived there he found the body of Mrs. Reynolds on the ground. He described the finding of the bayonet and bodies of Mr. Reynolds and Saville. Both were burned beyond possibility of identification. Everything that was taken from the house smelled strongly of kerosene.

Mowry said to the sheriff that he undressed and went to bed about 9.30 o'clock on the night of the 13th. When he awoke there were five men in the room. One advanced to the bed, holding a pistol toward him. He reached for his gun but before he could get it, the man shot him in the right ear.

They made him tell them where the money was and they put it in a carpet bag. They then took him to the woods and remained with him till they reached the old saw mill. When Sheriff Inman was taking him to Howard, the next day, they met Dr. McCaw. He examined the wounded ear and called attention to the other side of Mowry's face which was red and blistered. He said it had been burned by steam from a kettle.

The hearing then adjourned until Tuesday, when Mowry, who has recovered sufficiently, will testify.

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight, but sudden sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and nervous

Dyspepsia

The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is continually feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich, red blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

STATE OF MAINE.

ARBOR DAY.

A PROCLAMATION

By the Governor.

The statutes of our State wisely declare that the Governor shall annually set apart a day in the spring as Arbor Day, for the planting of trees, shrubs and vines. Shade trees and shrubs add much to the beauty of our cities and villages and to the comfort and elegance of our homes. To the end that their planting should be encouraged by concentrated action, this day has been established. I therefore appoint MONDAY, the tenth day of May next, to be observed as Arbor Day, and I recommend that all the people of our State pay a commendable zeal in promoting the objects for which this day is designed, by devoting the time to planting ornamental trees and shrubs along their streets, in public parks and other places and around their homes.

Given at the Executive Chamber, in Augusta, this thirty-first day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-first.

LLEWELLYN POWERS.

By the Governor,
BYRON BOYD,
Secretary of State.

Present Problems.

The New York Reform Club, that delightful aggregation of free traders which proposes to eradicate the popular sentiment in favor of protection by means of plate matter sent free to such papers as will give it a place in their columns, had a meeting Saturday night. The guest of honor was Mr. Grover Cleveland, who delivered an address upon "Present Problems." This Mr. Cleveland is in a very unfortunate position. He is too good for his own party, the members of which seldom lose an opportunity to score him as the wrecker of all their hopes, but he will have to improve mightily before he is good enough for any other party, with the possible exception of the mutual admiration society with which he dined Saturday.

Like the New York Evening Post he pretends to believe that the Republicans were placed in power as "the result of splendid Democratic patriotism," and makes the assertion with a disregard for facts that cannot fail to arouse the envy of the editor of that paper. It is needless to say that Mr. Cleveland knows better because he has ample evidence in the returns of the election to show the utter fallacy of his reasoning, but it suits his purpose to reiterate this claim as sweet music to the ears of men like himself who are desirous of side tracking the great issue of protection, and is especially important at this time by the "present problem" for which Mr. Cleveland is largely responsible.

He charges the Republicans with bad faith, and, to use his chaste expression, says the party is "wallowing in the mire of extreme protection." Call it by whatever name he pleases, the fact remains that the Republican party is doing just what it was elected to do by the American people, namely, wipe out a tariff law that caused untold disaster, a law that was designated by Mr. Cleveland himself as "an inconsistent absurdity," and reflecting only "party perfidy and dishonor," although he lacked the courage to veto it, allowing it to become operative by limitation. Mr. Cleveland has been preaching tariff reform, so-called, for a number of years and might find it profitable to stop and take account of stock. When he comes to strike a balance it will appear by facts of record that in spite of his teachings the protective tariff sentiment in this country is stronger to-day than it was when he inaugurated his reform policy. It would thus seem that a teacher so thoroughly discredited by the people ought to have sense enough at least to retire from public notice.

The chief of the present problems is to get the country back once more on the road to prosperity from which it was turned by Cleveland and his followers. This cannot be done by changing the currency laws. It must be by a tariff law that will stop the treasury deficit that was the principal feature of the Cleveland administration and at the same time afford the languishing industries of the country adequate protection from unnecessary foreign competition. This is the work to which the Republicans have addressed themselves under the direct and emphatic orders of the people because they have tried the Cleveland nostrum and it has made them very sick.

The Senate and the Tariff.

Mr. Gibson, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, writes: The Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee have given notice to members of the Senate that whatever representations they want to make to the sub-committee in regard to rates in the bill must be made by Saturday, as they expect to report the bill next week to the full committee, when it will be considered by all the members, Republican and Democratic, of that committee.

One of the members engaged in making up the bill said today that they hoped to have the bill ready to report by the middle of next week, but it might be delayed until Saturday, May 1. As the Senate will not transact any business until Thursday next, the Senators engaged on the tariff bill will have all of their time to devote to that measure.

When the bill is reported to the Finance Committee it will be considered for some time by that body. Just how long a time no one can tell. The Finance Committee is under the control of the opposition. Senator Jones, of Nevada, may vote with the Democrats to retain the bill in committee for full consideration there.

Mr. Jones has not taken any part in making up the bill, and has not been present, at any of the meetings of the Republican members, although invited to participate. Just what stand he will take in regard to the bill is not known, further than the fact that he is a protectionist and has always voted with the Republicans on tariff measures. He did not, however, support the emergency measure, which passed the House in the last Congress, and which was pigeonholed by Senate committee.

[illegible] expressed the opinion this afternoon that the bill would not be delayed to any unusual length of time in its consideration by the Senate. Some other Republicans think that the outlook is for a delay until August.

Mr. Swank, the general manager of the Iron and Steel Association, who is here looking after the iron and steel schedule, said to-night that so far as he could ascertain there had been no change in the iron and steel schedule from the way in which it passed the House.

The pottery schedule, up to this time has not undergone any change and probably will remain the same as it passed the House.

There will be a slight change in the way of classifications in the silk schedule, but it will, as far as rates are concerned, remain practically the same as when it passed the House.

There will be little change in the agricultural schedule. In the chemical schedule there have been a number of changes in the way of lowering rates.

In the sugar schedule no changes have yet been made.

The question of the duty on raw wool has not yet been decided, but the probabilities are that a specific duty will be placed on carpet wools.

A duty will probably be imposed on hides, though that is still an unsettled question. The reciprocity clause of the House bill will be retained, of course, and enlarged somewhat.

As to the retroactive clause of the bill, that will be changed somewhat by the committee, but it will be reported to the Senate. It is likely to give opportunity to the Democrats for a good deal of talk, providing it is not stricken out by the full committee. If Mr. Jones, of Nevada, should vote with the Democrats the retroactive clause would go out of the bill. But it might be restored in Conference Committee.

Reports have been printed in some newspapers concerning a secret combination of silver men to defeat the bill. No one need be alarmed by any reports of that character. They are merely sensational trash without any good foundation. There are votes enough pledged to pass the bill in the Senate, and the Republican members of the Finance Committee have no fears whatever on that point.

GREEKS FALLING BACK.

Forced to Leave Tyrnavos After a Hard Fight.

People of Thessaly Fear Massacres by Turks—Other War News.

Athens, April 24.—(Noon.)—The Turks at noon yesterday, strongly attacked Mati, which was defended by Gen. Manathos' brigade. After six hours' fighting a council of war, presided over by the crown prince, decided to order the retreat of the Greek forces from Tyrnavos. The retreat was effected in good order.

Ricciotti Garibaldi has arrived here and was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

The following semi-official announcement was made this afternoon:

"In a fierce engagement at Mati our troops fought heroically until 6 o'clock in the evening and compelled the Turks to retreat. Whereupon the Turks were heavily reinforced, our positions were shaken and a retreat was ordered. It is not yet known whether the retreat was general."

A second despatch from the headquarters staff says:

"Our troops are concentrated along the line of Pharsalos, in consequence of these operations, the abandonment of Tyrnavos and Larissa being considered inevitable."

Another Despatch.

London, April 24.—Special despatches from Athens this afternoon say that after a battle in which the Greeks were outnumbered, retreated with heavy loss, abandoned Tyrnavos and Larissa, and removed the Greek headquarters to Pharsalos, a small town on the right bank of the Phersalitis and at the north foot of a spur of the Chasidiari mountains. Pharsalos is about 20 miles due south of Larissa.

Insurrection in Albania.

London, April 24—According to special despatches received here today an insurrection has broken out in Albania. The Turkish troops are said to be participating in the revolt.

The News from Epirus.

Constantinople, April 24—The news received here from Epirus is not serious. The Greek division which defeated the Turks at Filippiada is continuing its march on Janina, near which place a strong Turkish force is gathered and an important battle will most likely be fought. But the most alarming news received from Epirus is that four battalions of Albanians, belonging to the Luros division of the Turkish army, have mutined and are said to have deserted to the Greeks.

An official despatch dated today from the Turkish commander of the army corps at Janina, Epirus, announces that a desperate battle lasting over seven hours, the Turkish have captured Fort Beshpommar, where the Greeks were entrenched after crossing the Frontier and advancing along the river Luro.

Greeks Occupy Cumisades.

Athens, April 24.—A despatch received from the Greek commander in Epirus, Col. Manos, announces that the Greeks have occupied Kumisades, near Strevini.

The Greek scouting parties have reached points close to Fort Pente Pegadia.

The Greek squadron which bombarded Santi Quaranta left Corfu yesterday morning and on arriving in the bay of Santi Quaranta immediately formed in line of battle. The warships were spread out fan-shape and the torpedo boats occupied points of vantage. Fire was opened with the livliest kind of cannonade for two hours, the great destructiveness of which was soon observed in dismantled buildings everywhere, while the flames broke out in many places.

The crews of the Greek gunners were directed most admirably and no ammunition was wasted. The Turkish garrison, at about noon, was seen to have sought refuge in the forts. The Turks were supposed to have numbered about 600 men. The Greek naval commander then decided to land and immediately proceeded to destroy the stores of the Turks, beginning with 1,000 sacks of flour which was found on the quays.

After rapidly completing this work while the fleet imposed silence on the fort, the Greeks set fire to the remaining store houses and destroyed large quantities of munitions of war which had been collected for the use of the Turkish forces in Epirus.

After this work was completed the Greek sailors returned to their ships leaving the whole place in flames and bringing with them 50 Christians who had been placed in white flag over a house in which they had collected. The Greek gunners took special care to avoid hitting this building.

The casualties of the Greeks throughout the bombardment and the subsequent landing and destruction of the Turkish stores were two sailors wounded.

Campaign in Thessaly.

Athens, April 24.—A cabinet council lasting a long time was held here yesterday evening.

Official news received from the Greek commander in Thessaly, Prince Constantine, says that a battle is proceeding around Mati. Up to five o'clock yesterday evening the Turks had been repulsed and no further information has yet been received of the results of the subsequent fighting.

Insurgents Enter Macedonia.

Sofia, Bulgaria, April 24.—An insurgent band has entered Macedonia under a leader who was recently placed under surveillance.

Other insurgent bands have gone north with the intention of crossing the frontier, working round and meeting the first insurgent band in Macedonia.

Most Serious News for the Turks.

Constantinople, April 24.—The latest advices from the seat of war indicate that the Greek forces have penetrated into Turkish territory, reaching the rear of Elassona, on the Mount Olympus side, which is most serious news for the Turks, if true. The divisions of the Turkish army stationed at Monastir and Salonica are about to start for Elassona.

Bulgaria Will Not Sever Diplomatic Relations.

Constantinople, April 24.—As announced in these dispatches the Turkish government, some days ago, called upon Bulgaria, as the vassal of Turkey, to break off all diplomatic relations with Greece and to expel the Greek consuls and Greeks from Bulgarian territory.

The Bulgarian government took the matter under consideration, and it is announced, has declined to do so, declaring that she will observe neutrality during the war between Turkey and Greece.

The refusal of Bulgaria to acknowledge her vassalage to Turkey is regarded as being a very important departure and as foreshadowing the declaration of independence of Bulgaria.

The ambassadors of the powers at a meeting just held, have been ordered to address identical notes to the Turkish government asking that the Greeks employed by the foreign ministers, consulates and hospitals and all Greek ecclesiastics be permitted to remain in Turkey.

The ambassadors also promise that the foreign consulates use their good offices in behalf of the Greeks who represent the interests of foreign capital and finally they will recommend that in any case the Turkish government should observe moderation in carrying out the expulsion of the Greeks.

The question is a very serious one as at Constantinople alone there are 40,000 Greeks and throughout Turkey there are 200,000 Greeks. Fears are expressed that disturbances will occur during the Greek Easter tide, which begins today. Nevertheless a notice was read in all the mosques yesterday joining the Turks not to molest the peaceable Greeks, the war being a matter between the two armies.

Ismail Bey was unexpectedly summoned to the Yildiz Kiosk yesterday and it is now supposed the sultan has reinstated him as his favorite and second secretary.

Observances of Holy Friday.

Athens, April 24.—The Holy Friday procession here yesterday was one of the most dramatic incidents of the war, most vast records of Athenians on an over-

The king and queen of Greece and the whole of the world were present at the cathedral mass.

In Fear of Massacres.

Larissa, April 24.—The population of the country for many miles in all directions from this city have been greatly alarmed by the invasion of Thessaly by the Turks and, believing that they would be massacred in the event of an general advance by the Moslems, they have abandoned their homes and are flocking to this city for refuge.

The roads leading to the city are blocked by the fugitives, who are bringing with them their flocks and herds, and in many cases, their furniture and personal belongings. The city is now more than filled, and, as more of the late arrivals will be compelled to camp out, as it will be impossible for them to find accommodations in the town.

The great influx of fugitives has created a scarcity of food, but a plentiful supply of meat candles obtained by slaughtering the sheep and cattle, large numbers of which are arriving daily. The refugees are apparently thinking but little of their safe here.

A more serious feature of the situation is the condition of the hospitals. They are crowded to the utmost capacity with soldiers, and other sick and wounded are being brought from the front hourly. Dr. [illegible] and the nurses and surgeons attached to the hospitals are overworked by the vast amount of work which has been called upon to perform, and it is impossible for them to stand the strain much longer. An urgent appeal has been sent to the government at Athens to send more surgeons and nurses to Larissa at once.

There did not seem to be any doubt that it is impossible to give them the attention they should have. So pressing are the surgeons for assistance that it is the necessity for their work that operations are being performed without the use of chloroform or other anesthetics. The wounded men bear their sufferings uncomplainingly but their condition is pitiable.

Greeks in New York Enthusiastic.

New York, April 24.—The [illegible] enthusiasm prevails in the Greek colony on Roosevelt and Madison streets this morning. A great crowd gathered in the Parthenon restaurant, the headquarters of the Greek patriots. The place was filled all night with Greeks writing letters to friends announcing their departure for the seat of war.

The latest bulletins posted were received with the keenest interest and every item favorable to the Greek cause or Hellenes was greeted with shouts of delight. A Times man visited the restaurant early in the morning and added melodic to the din. "Long live the war" burst from a thousand lusty throats as the flag of the Hellenes was unfurled.

It seemed a signal, for instantaneously all sides began to pour in fighting men, grim looking, for both sides carried pistols, with a portrait of Garibaldi. For the most part they carried in their hands two small flags, one Greek and the other American. Four hundred and fifty Greeks leave for the seat of war today.

Mr. Angell Interviewed.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 24.—James B. Angell, president of the University of Michigan and the new minister to Turkey, who has been in Chattanooga for several days visiting their military park, has returned to Ann Arbor. In speaking of the war, Dr. Angell said:

"I spoke very not the whole of Europe to fighting and ward off the death of [illegible] and [illegible] the trap of Europe. The impression that the Turks are [illegible] fate and prone to run when they are [illegible] verses is an error. The position of [illegible] George is that of character. "Why did the powers not try to prevent the Sultan as they did King [illegible] was asked.

"Because of the fear of Russia. The czar insisted Turkey and [illegible] him was certain, though [illegible] tion hoped to gain. Since then, though since the Crimean war Russia has been watching for an opportunity like this. She has supported Turkey [illegible] tention. She hoped to [illegible] general embroilment and the partition of Turkey and the repugnance of [illegible] sentiments for the czar. Europe [illegible] though on the fence, has mostly [illegible] the czar. Italy and England [illegible] to assist Greece, but England [illegible] by Middle Russia rules the roost. [illegible] Greece receives assistance. Turkey's popular strength is [illegible] but a spark may set fire to all Europe any time."

Gen. Miles Will Go.

Washington, April 24.—Gen. Miles has been notified of the President's approval of his projected visit to the seat of war in Europe. He will leave Washington early in May, probably on the 8th, from New York.

At Paris he will meet [illegible] Oriental express and go through Constantinople. His movements will depend entirely upon the progress of the war, but it is his intention to keep as near as possible to the scene of actual hostilities so that he may be in either camp.

General Miles will be accompanied by Capt. M. P. Maus, for his personal staff and they will carry full credentials from the government.

Greeks Falling Back.

Paris, April 24.—A despatch received here from Athens says it is rumored there that the Greeks have abandoned Tyrnavos and Larissa and have concentrated on their second line of defence, Pharsalos.

Succumbed to His Wound.

London, April 24.—A special despatch from Athens says it is rumored there that Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, has succumbed to the wound which he received in the recent fighting with the Greeks on the Mati pass.

Going Home to Fight.

New York, April 24.—After the La Champagne had sailed it was stated that Prof. Liotzocos, of Columbia college was among the Greeks that sailed. He broke up his mind suddenly to go home and he joined the delegation at the last moment.

Ready to Sail for the Levant.

Toulon, April 24.—The entire French Mediterranean squadron is taking board provisions, coal and ammunition in order to sail for the Levant if necessary tomorrow.

The Shah Dangerously Ill.

London, April 24.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Paris says that the Shah of Persia, Mozaffer-Ed-Din is alarmingly ill. Mozaffer-Ed-Din was born March 25, 1853 and succeeded his father eight years ago, assumed on May 1, 1896.

Drowned in Salt River.

Thoenix, Arizona, April 24.—Three more Mormons have been taken by Salt River, making seven within a month. The stream is swollen by melting snows, and its fords are peculiarly treacherous. Reckless persons and usually with disaster, as in Skelton, a brick maker, left the city accompanied by a woman named Medlin, may and an unknown man. All had left Silver City, New Mexico, where Skelton has kins. They were in a light spring wagon which was taken up by the current in the centre of the stream. All three were thrown from their seats and disappeared beneath the muddy water. The bodies did not rise.

For Robbing a Jew Peddler.

Marblehead, Mass., April 24.—Wm. Carroll, Charles McNulty, and Thomas Keenan were arrested about midnight last night on a charge of felonious assault and attempt to rob Thomas Concanta, a Hebrew peddler. Concanta claims that the trio met him near an empty house on one of the back streets and demanded his money. He naturally refused and they proceeded to rifle his pockets. In the struggle he claims to have been severely hurt. The three men were arraigned in court this afternoon.

When once used, you will like others call for Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, and nothing else.

Humors, pimples, boils, are very annoying. They quickly disappear when the blood is purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hancock, the only Piano dealer left in the city, opp. Bangor House.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples and blotches. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. The skin is not a thing by itself, and diseases are frequently not skin diseases. All the lotions and bleaches and powders in the world won't clear a complexion if the digestion is out of order, if the stomach is sour, and the bowels constipated, the blood clogged and poisonous. No use trying to conceal such a condition. The system will force it; it is to cleanse the system and purify the blood. As long as the blood is clogged with impurities it will pimple, it will show it. No use trying to hide it. Nature will force it out to be cured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the remedy for such a condition. It cures eruptions, eczema, salt rheum, scaly skin, and scaly scalp because it purifies the blood, makes the blood pure, and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to digest nutritious food, and by the invigorating and strengthening properties of its own ingredients, it enriches the blood, and so makes healthy tissue. Pimples, blotches, "blackheads," "liver spots," hollows, pale cheeks, wrinkles, leanness, are all signs of impure blood. Don't let prejudiced druggists cheat you out of your health by trying to palm off some other medicine as just "as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery." It pays them to do so, if they can sell a little more of some worthless medicine. It does not pay you, if suffering from any of the diseases named above.

Consultation by mail, free. Hundreds of great testimonials and 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, and we will send, in an envelope, a copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page Common Sense Medical Adviser. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

BREWER LOCALS.

Mr. H. A. Gould is excavating for a new house on Spring street.

The over-head bridge on Main street is undergoing very much needed repairs.

The Christian Endeavor societies in the city hold their monthly consecration meetings next Sunday.

Janitor Bennett of City Hall has been confined to the house for several days with an attack of rheumatism.

Cyrus Brown was fined $3 and costs in the Municipal Court Saturday. In default of payment he was committed.

Mr. Salem Copeland, of this city, has contracted to do the stone work for Wm. P. Connors' new house on Merrimack street in Bangor.

F. W. Ayer & Co.'s saw mill at South Brewer started up today for the season. The usual amount of repairs have been made this spring.

The sessions of the city schools will be resumed today after a short recess occasioned by Fast Day and the teachers' meeting at Orono.

According to the new census, the canvass for which was completed Saturday, the increase of scholars over 1896 is 30, making a total of 1,419.

A number of Brewer members of the Grange went to Hampden Saturday to attend the April session of Penobscot Pomona Grange which was held there.

Mayflowers are late this year but they are beginning to bloom and excursions to the neighboring woods in quest of these fragrant blossoms will soon be in order.

Miss Lilla Curtis, who has been spending several weeks' vacation at her home in this city, returned Saturday to Rumford Falls where she will resume teaching in the public schools.

As is customary on the Sunday during the annual conference a portion of the services at the First M. E. church were omitted yesterday. The Sunday school and evening service were held.

The schooner Kit Carson, which has been undergoing repairs at Bucksport, has been put in fine condition for the season's service and has been launched from the marine railway where the work was done.

The annual meeting of the Epworth League resulted in the choice of the following officers for the ensuing year: F. H. Nickerson, president; Granville Goodwin, first vice president; Mrs. F. E. Collins, second vice president; fourth vice president, Mrs. Daisy McCormick; Mrs. Annie Worth, secretary and treasurer.

The following officers have been chosen for the ensuing year for the Sunday school of the Methodist church: L. F. Higgins, superintendent; Granville Goodwin, assistant; Miss Mae Savage, female superintendent; A. B. King, secretary; Mrs. Annie Webster, treasurer; Mrs. Vesta Eaton, librarian; Miss Phebe Currier, chorister.

The death of Mrs. Chapman, wife of Alberto Chapman, of Main street, occurred Saturday forenoon about 9 o'clock. The cause of her death was dropsy. Beside a husband she leaves two sons, George and Ephraim Chapman, of Brewer, and several sisters, all of whom will have the sympathy of their friends in their bereavement.

The funeral of the late Sarah Morrill Burr was held Sunday afternoon at the Congregational church in this city, and a large number of friends and relatives of the deceased were in attendance. Prof. C. A. Beckwith, of the Theological Seminary, officiated, and the Brewer Quintette sang a few selections. The floral tributes were very beautiful, the altar being covered with lilies and roses. The interment was at Oak Hill Cemetery.

The death of David S. Billings occurred Friday night at the Brewer House on State street, of which the deceased was proprietor. He was about 63 years of age. Mr. Billings was born in Brooksville, where he lived the greater part of his life, moving to Brewer only a few years ago. He leaves a widow and several children to mourn for him. Mr. Billings was a man of genial disposition and made many friends in Brewer who will be pained to learn of his death.

Cotton Mills Shut Down.

Dover, N. H., April 24.—The employees of the Cocheco cotton mills were notified today that the entire plant would shut down tonight until May 3. The cotton market is still dull and in view of this fact it was considered that next week will be a good time to make repairs in the different mills.

Faust's Birthplace Sold.

The house in Roda, Saxe-Altenburg, where Dr. Johann Faust, the famous magician and soothsayer of legendary fame, was born toward the last quarter of the fifteenth century, was knocked down to a native for $25 the other day, and is now being dismantled. Five years ago, when the World's Fair commission despatched a small army of curiosity hunters to all parts of the globe to seek attractions, the good people of Roda asked a cool $100,000 for the little pile of brick, wood, iron, mortar and dust that was to be taken down and re-erected in this country. But the price was considered too stiff and the negotiations fell through. In order that the house might not fall down the municipal fathers of the little town ordered its immediate demolition.

This historic structure stood until quite recently on a rocky eminence near Jenaischen Thor (city gate). It was a frame building, very rickety, and has been extensively repaired. There is a legend that it dated back to the year 1450 or 1400, as do many other buildings of Roda. That Faust saw the light in one of its dingy rooms, with floors of trampled earth and tiny windows in leaden frames, is attested by several authentic statements in the town chronicle, and also in the "Faust Buch," printed in 1587, from which all later writers on the Faust legend quote and which is their chief authority.

Waterville Mail: When gifts aggregating from $500 to $1,000 for the new women's dormitory at Colby are matters of frequent occurrence, it does not look as if President Butler was so oversanguine in regard to the ultimate success of the movement, as some have feared. We have an idea that the latter part of the whole sum of $85,000 needed, in addition to the $15,000 that had already been pledged, will be secured with less effort than the earlier thousands.

The officers searched three places in Gardiner Thursday forenoon for liquor on complaint of Mrs. Frank Reed, finding some of the liquor at two of them. They were entered simultaneously, Marshal Drake and Deputy Marshal McNamara going into the Johnson House, Officers Burse and Andrews to George Williams', and Sheriff Heath and Constable Dunlap to the South End House. Nothing was found by Officer Burse and Andrews at Williams' saloon. A rumpus of quite quantity was taken from the other places, to convict, and Messrs. Romeo and Jackins appealed their cases to the September term of court, furnishing bonds to the amount of $200 for their appearance.

Highly Recommended at Home.

Mrs. Dyer, wife of the postmaster at La Grange, says: "I have used Dr. Miles' Pills in my family for years, and they have always given satisfaction. I can recommend them to my friends as a family medicine that does what it is claimed to do." Dr. Miles' Pills are sold by all druggists under a guarantee. Book on diseases and first dose free at druggists or address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SPECIAL CABLE LETTER.

Ambassadors at London Say War Will Be Brief.

Think Turks Will Soon Appeal to Powers to Interfere.

(Copyright 1897, by the Associated Press.)

(Special London Cable Letter.)—London, April 24.—The weather here and on the continent has been cold, cheerless and biting during the week. Dust winds prevailed and the spread of influenza continues.

Paris has been duller than for years past at Easter.

The queen's diamond jubilee, after being the object of all sorts of speculations, has now been made the basis for a confidence trick, swindlers have been taking photographs of prominent houses along the route to be followed by the procession and have been forwarding them to American and other strangers in London, asking a low price for windows, but demanding a good deposit in advance. Several people have been victimized to the tune of about $250 each.

The predicted slump in the window market has already begun, and large numbers of windows and houses were offered at auction on Thursday. With the exception of a small window which sold at $165 all the lots were withdrawn, no one bidding above one-fifth of the reserve price. One West End club man whose wife is an invalid sold the ticket issued to him for her use for $500, including "luncheon, escorts and introduction to a K. C. B., and his wife, who will receive."

The Absorbing Topic.

The dominant note of everything in London is war. It is discussed chiefly by all classes, from cabinet ministers down to the riffraff of the East End, though all but the specialists age and idled as to the whereabouts of most of the places named. In consequence, there is such a demand for war maps that the publishers have been unable to supply it.

The commercial world is a curious state of affairs. The sympathies with the combatants run on party lines. The Conservatives lending the Turks and the Liberals hoping for Greek success, while in Ireland, where one would expect universal sympathy for Greece, there is the amazing amount of plaudits for Turkey, on the ground that the Turks are such good fighters. The commercials of the war are becoming more or less heated. Two letters from Mr. Gladstone since Monday have added fuel to the fire. He says that the six powers, with the inexplicable maladroitness which has distinguished them throughout, have sold, in acts, to the Greeks "you shan't carry on your work in Crete." In Crete we will do the war work of the Turks; there it is: "They have driven the Greeks into Macedonia."

Continuing, Mr. Gladstone remarks: "It is an incredible scheme that the incomparable bungling of the powers, and sacrifices of honor, decency and humanity in order to preserve peace, have caused year."

The war has opened wide the purses of the Greeks abroad and qualifiers, of drafts of from $5 to $50 are coming from the United States and Canada for the Greek defence fund. Probably close upon $5,000,000 has passed through London for Greece during the past three weeks.

A prominent London banker said, "We only represent four United States and Canadian banks from which these small drafts come; but, if these represent anything like a fair proportion of the sums forwarded by other American banks, which we think is undoubtedly the case, the total amount of money sent to Greece from America is already very close upon a million pounds sterling. Besides these American contributions, the Greek merchants of London are forwarding large subscriptions of money and material."

The Daily Chronicle and the Star have opened funds for the wounded and the amounts subscribed will be sent to the crown princess of Greece.

Think War Will Be Over in Three Weeks.

Regarding the course of the war, the Associated Press learns that the ambassadors at three of the powers in London believe the war will be over in three weeks and that when the Turks capture Larissa the Sultan of Turkey will appeal to the powers to interfere in the interests of peace.

In the meanwhile, it is said that Great Britain has declined to agree to the proposition of Count M. Ravieff to abstain from intervention until one of the belligerents appeals for help, the Marquis of Salisbury being of the opinion that such an appeal will never be made and that, in the meantime, circumstances may arise necessitating action upon the part of the powers.

The appearance of Mr. Louis Stuyvesant Chanler at Dublin on Tuesday as an ardent Redmondite, in a speech giving no end of threats against Great Britain, has caused annoyance in Astor circles.

Mr. Chanler is spoken of in Dublin as "One of the Astor family," and this speech was accepted by his audience at the rotunda as a sort of prophecy of the immediate return to the policy of physical force which, it is also openly asserted by the members of the other sections of the Irish Nationalists, is the real reason why the convention was called. Mr. Chanler, a few years ago, rented a house from the Duke of Leeds, near Newmarket, and then went to Cambridge for a course of study. He became a prominent member of a debating society and finally took the stump for the Liberals during the last campaign.

A small torpedo boat, the Turbine, in her speed trials at Newcastle, has developed 32¾ knots. She is 200 feet long, has nine feet beam at her broadest part, registers 42 tons, draws three feet of water and has three shafts, each with three propellers.

In an interview with Mr. H. N. Little, manager of the Metropolitan railroad of New York, the American railroad man intimated an trying to convert the British to the American cable car system which he says, ought to run on Piccadilly, the Strand and Trafalgar Square. Mr. Little is amazed at the crude, primitive methods employed here. He says the cable was opposed in New York at first, but, he believes that, today, there is not a merchant on Broadway who would not fight for the retention of the system. There is very, very misguided person to attack it.

The amateur golf championship contest opened at Nuleffield on Tuesday with 74 players, the highest on record, entered. Two former champions, Horace Hutchinson and P. C. Anderson are absent; but all the other crack players of the golfing world have entered.

Theatrical Matters.

Arthur Roberts is packing the empire with a turn of burlesque of Fregoli and other change artists who are the fashion in London.

The theatres, generally, have had a prosperous week.

"Brandon Thomas" has written a new comedy entitled "22 A Curzon street, Mayfair," which is said to be exceedingly funny, and strong in situation. Some time since a play called "No. Six John street, Adelphi," was produced at the Vaudeville and another named "No. 117 Arundel street." There is, of course, no such number in Curzon street, any more than there was a No. 31 in the same street. Mr. Herbert Standing will produce the new comedy. After his engagement at the Empire Theatre Arthur Roberts will again resume management on his own account at the Strand Theatre, opening with Messrs. Hood and Slaughter's new musical play "Dandy Dan, the Life Guardsman."

Cicely Richards will give a matinee at the Chalterton on Tuesday, April 27, when she will submit an original farcical comedy written by Mrs. Lancaster Wells. The piece will be produced by Mr. Hugh Moss.

The rehearsals of Sir Arthur Sullivan's "National" ballet began this week at the Alhambra. Mr. Arthur returning from the Riviera, for the purpose. Two Alhambra favorites, Signorina Adelina and Signorina Ella have been engaged.

Chas. Dawson, who performed in the Cadman opera company, was found dead in the Conway Castle, on the Welsh coast, on Thursday morning. Dawson was a Knight of Honor, from Kansas City, Mo., and was on his way to London to join the Gaiety company. He had been ill for some time and was subject to fits of epilepsy. He was 30 years of age and married. His family resided in Kansas City, Mo.

PLEADED GUILTY.

Kelley Arraigned for the Murder of Cashier Stickey.

Broke Down and Sobbed Like a Child as He Answered.

Somersworth, N. H., April 24.—Joseph E. Kelly, the murderer of Cashier Stickney, of the Great Falls National Bank, was arraigned in court at 9 o'clock this morning, and pleaded guilty to a charge of murder.

Everything connected with the hearing, save of a most dramatic character and Kelly, who had only a week ago called everyone in Somersworth his friend, and had been on the most intimate terms with local people, was this morning apparently without a friend in the world. His father, who had been expected to be present, at his hearing, did not come, neither was there any counsel or friend to appear in Kelly's behalf.

He was absolutely alone and was bowed down with grief, thinking like a child and utterly oblivious of the surroundings. For the first time since his arrest he appeared to fully realize the enormity of his crime, and the probable terrible consequences to him.

The hearing was held in the little town hall where every class of meeting is held from the ordinary town caucus to the town election. Very frequently lectures and temperance are given and the stage is fitted for a cosy little theatre. This morning at the front of the stage was a row of footlights and the scenery of the last performance, which was given, was still in position, making the ensemble of a most dramatic character throughout. The crowd which attended was very large.

The doors were opened at 8 o'clock and there was a grand rush up the stairs. A row of settees had been placed about 20 feet in front of the stage making an enclosure in which were a number of other settees and chairs.

This enclosure was in the centre of a crowd of people, who, although greatly interested in the proceedings, were remarkably orderly.

Prisoner Brought In.

At 9 o'clock the prisoner, surrounded by detectives and local police officers, was brought in upon the stage and seated between the wings. In a moment Judge Knapp appeared and seated himself at the long table in the enclosure. Kelly was then made to walk down the stairs at the side of the stage and through a passage formed through the crowd, and was seated in the exact centre of the open space on the floor of the hall. Behind him was seated Sheriff Hayes and the other officers, who had been closely connected with the case.

At two minutes past 9 o'clock County Solicitor Nason arose and said: "May it please your honor the state presents a case of one Joseph E. Kelly, who, on April 10, with malice aforethought, did kill and murder one Joseph A. Stickney by striking him on the head and cutting his throat."

He then moved that Kelly be arraigned for the crime. Judge Knapp arose and proceeded to read the warrant to Kelly. The prisoner was seated when the judge arose but was at once ordered to stand. He seemed to be very weak so much so that he partially fell forward on the table, and it was only by great exertion and by a firm clutch on the table that he finally was able to stand up.

Completely Unnerved.

His head was bowed upon his breast, and for two minutes he stood motionless. As the judge, in reading the warrant, reached the words "with a policeman's billy, did hit him on the head and then with a razor did cut his throat," Kelly began to break down, and before the judge finished was sobbing like a child. His sobs could be heard at the other end of the hall. He seemed to be completely unnerved.

As Judge Knapp asked the question: "Are you guilty or not guilty?" Kelly's head dropped lower and lower and his sobs grew louder. The court was obliged to repeat the question three times, when by a great effort, Kelly answered the one word "Guilty," so low that only those in the immediate vicinity could hear him.

His voice was hoarse and he appeared to be choking as the word was uttered.

There was no confusion or outcry as Kelly's unexpected plea was made, and it cannot then announced to the prisoner that he would be taken back to the county jail at Dover, and held for the next session of the supreme judicial court in September. Almost immediately Sheriff Hayes went forward and took Kelly by the arm.

He found it difficult to raise the trembling man from his chair as his nerves were completely shattered and he seemed to have no control over himself. With the aid of Constable Bartlett, Kelly was taken back to the stairs and through the gorgeous scenery to the street, where he was placed in a carriage and driven back to Dover.

The hearing this morning ends all legal proceedings in the case in the town of Somersworth. The entire matter is now in the hands of the supreme judicial court of New Hampshire, which will determine the degree of guilt at its session in September.

There was considerable feeling expressed this morning at the apparent desertion of the young prisoner by his father and family, none of whom came to the hearing at all, although they were evidently expected.

His Father Did Not Attend.

Amesbury, Mass., April 24.—Michael Kelly, of Amesbury, father of Joseph E. Kelly, the murderer of Cashier Stickney, decided this morning not to go to Somersworth today to attend the preliminary hearing of his son's case. Mr. Kelly says he does not feel that he can spare the money to fight a case in which there is practically no hope. He says he has heard nothing from his son. The government will provide him with counsel.

Back in His Cell at Dover.

Dover, N. H., April 24.—Kelly had a very good rest last night and this morning before he left for Somersworth, ate a hearty breakfast. It was the first good meal he has eaten since he was captured and he appeared to enjoy it.

About 7.30 he changed his prison clothes and donned a white shirt, corduroy vest, light trousers, a black coat and black overcoat and wore a gray soft felt hat which he bought in Milton on the day of the murder. He was driven to Somersworth at 8 o'clock, in company with Sheriff Hayes and the other officers. On the way over he was very quiet. The only words he spoke during the whole trip of five miles was "I cannot believe that I committed the crime."

He returned to Dover from Somersworth at 10.10 and was immediately dressed in prison garb and placed in the revolving cell. Kelly appeared to have perfectly regained his composure and the only evidence of his breaking down at the hearing was a slight redness and swelling about the eyes. As soon as he entered his cell he asked if he might send to his boarding house at Berwick and get some of his things.

This request was granted and he wrote to Mrs. Wilkinson, his landlady, stating that he wanted his small clock, the photograph of Olive Stone, his sweetheart, a revolver and some articles of clothing which he left there. It is very doubtful, however, if he is allowed to have the clock or the revolver as the authorities are guarding him very carefully to prevent him from committing suicide.

CAUSES MUCH ALARM.

Trouble Seems to Be Spreading at the New Bedford Mills.

New Bedford, Mass., April 24.—Much alarm is felt here over the continued absence from the city of Wm. D. Howland, treasurer of the New Bedford Mills Corporation, Rotch Spinning Co. and the Howland Cotton Mills, all three of which he announced last night are in financial difficulties, due principally to the placing of the Bennett and Columbia corporations in the hands of receivers, and the revelation of the true condition of the accounts in the latter two mills.

At a meeting of the directors of the Howland, New Bedford and Rotch corporations yesterday, it was decided to make a full examination of the accounts of those mills in order that the creditors might be apprised of their exact standing.

Mr. Howland was seen early yesterday and upon that time he was nowhere to be found. Since then his whereabouts have remained a mystery and at a late hour last night no information had been received by his family regarding his whereabouts. Some time ago it was rumored that he had left the city, but his family stated that he had not left the city.

ALL OVER THE STATE.

Auburn has purchased through its city government committee the E. T. Gile lot at the rear of the Sixth street schoolhouse lot. The lot is on the corner of Broad and Sixth streets, is 50x100 feet, and the price paid was $1,300. This, with the old lot, gives the city a lot 100x200 feet. The schoolhouse plans have not been accepted yet. Indications are that they will build on the Sixth street lot.

The Farmers' Institute held in the Engine Hall, Camden, last week, was one of the most successful events of the week. Most of the farmers in the vicinity were in attendance and listened to the able papers with profit and pleasure. The discussions were general and very interesting. Prof. Gowell, Secretary McKeen and Mr. Light each gave extremely interesting talks. The cream separator and milk tester attracted much attention and were exceedingly interesting in their workings.

A young lady living on Newbury street, Portland, had a narrow escape from suffocation by coal gas during Thursday night. She awoke in the night and was scarcely able to breathe. She tried to light a lamp but was so weak that she tipped it over and became nearly choked in the dense smoke. Finally she managed to reach a window and throw it open, after which she rapidly recovered. The damper of the coal stove had been shut and when she arranged the stove for the night she forgot to open it.

It was on a Portland wharf Thursday. The officers of the big Allen liner had shaken hands with all their friends and bade them goodbye until next fall, the bell had warned everybody ashore and all those who had come down to see their friends off had obeyed the summons, the wharf being black with people. Two seamen were just loosening the fastenings of the gang plank when suddenly a dozen women forced their way through the crowd. They were not passengers but had only come down to bid farewell to a friend. The woman thought they were in search of rushed out and met them at the head of the gang plank and everything stopped until she had kissed each in turn, said "goodbye, now be sure and remember to write," half a dozen times to each and attended to all the other duties that some women seem to think etiquette demands on such occasions. The spectators smiled and the officers scowled, but the women sailed serenely up the wharf and were talking about last Sunday's new bonnets and this week's coming club meetings before the steamer had fairly got away from the wharf.

S. E. Johnson has completed the school census of Gardiner and finds that there are between 1,475 and 1,500 school children in the city. This is about the same as last year. Ward 6 showed a larger gain than any other, about 20, the remainder just about holding their own.

Large quantities of China clay have been received at Portland the past season. It is used by the paper manufacturing companies in finishing their stock.

A young boy, who was out gunning near Morrison's Corner in Benton Thursday, succeeded in killing a specimen of game which is exceedingly rare for State of Maine hunters, that of a fine, bald eagle. The bird measured eight feet from tip to tip of wings. The boy was crossing a field with a good charge of BB shot. The eagle appeared circling about overhead and after a time the youthful hunter took aim and fired and as good luck would have it killed the huge bird at the first shot. The bird will be sent to Gifford, the Skowhegan taxidermist, to be mounted.

Passers-by on Commercial street, Portland, Friday morning about 7 o'clock, were startled by an explosion on Commercial wharf, the report of which was as loud as the noise of a cannon. This was accompanied by a shower of bricks and mortar which rattled down in the street, fortunately striking nobody, as there were but few people on the wharf at this hour. It was the chimney on the roof of the building occupied by Sargent, Lord and Skillin that caused the disturbance. The explosion of the chimney was said to have been caused by gas which had accumulated there.

An alarm from box 521 at Augusta Thursday was the cause of summoning a regular holiday crowd to the neighborhood of the box located at the corner of Boyd's and Bridge streets. The fire proved to be burning grass, which started from a lot in the Catholic cemetery, where a young man had set fire to the dead grass, intending to confine it to the lot. The brisk wind that was blowing from the south, however, quickly carried the fire toward Winthrop street and for quite a space the cemetery was badly scorched, some of the tablets, it is understood, being badly smoked. There was no cause for an alarm.

This is the way they take care of deer chasing dogs in Stonham: Tuesday afternoon a small doe, deer, came out of the woods on the ice of Lower Stone pond, closely followed by two hounds. There happened to be an ox team in charge of two or three lumbermen crossing the pond. One of them had an ax in his hand, one of the hounds ran against the ax and the owner of that hound may find his mortal remains hung up in a tree as a warning to evil minded hounds to stay at home and not drive deer. The second dog escaped from the lodgment without injury, and the poor exhausted doe was allowed to find its way quietly to the woods again.

A correspondent says the condition of the roads is enough to make a newspaper reporter die. He's got to if he keeps the good will of the people responsible for the roads.

The cows of one East Hebron farmer ought to give good grass, milk. They dream all the sap in his orchard one morning.

South Portland finds itself in a quiet predicament, according to the Sun. It appears that a certain member of the late social meeting, who sought the hand of the manager of the meeting, has left town, and the young man is now in a state of uncertainty as to the outcome of his suit.

CITY AND VICINITY.

The schooner Seal Bird, 55 tons, 40 years old, which has been laid up at Southwest Harbor, Mt. Desert, for the past year, has been sold to Capt. Hubbridge Roleson, of Belfast, who will fit her up for a coaster.

The returns from the local tax assessors of twenty towns and plantations have been received at the State House. They are not due until August, but some, being small, require less work than the larger ones and are needed early.

It was decided Friday, that what is known as the State grounds, the large tract of land extending from State street opposite the State House at Augusta to the river, will be inclosed with a neat wire fence, and very much improved in appearance. The entire lot will be ploughed over at the expense of the Insane Hospital, which has used the grass lands for the hay product. The grass has become poor, and the place has been badly cut up by driving through it. Work will commence at once.

A West Franklin cat has just earned gratitude of the family where she resides by jumping in the face of her mistress and so waking the family just as the room was filled with smoke and the plaster was beginning to fall from a fire overhead. By this act Pussy is given credit for saving the lives of several persons. 'Tis to be hoped this good deed of hers will not be forgotten when the question of saving one or two of her kittens, instead of slaughtering the whole lot, next comes up for consideration.

Governor Powers is a very much invited man. He has, among other invitations, accepted two, which will be notable affairs. On the evening of the 27th he will be present at the reception to the President and the Vice President, to be given under the auspices of the Union League Club. The other will be a reception and dinner given in honor of General Horace Porter, the ambassador to France, and General Merritt. He was invited to this by General Butterfield. It will take place on the evening of the 28th. Both of the occasions will be brilliant affairs, and many notable people will be present.

A correspondent writes: A pleasant wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Haskell, of South Lincoln, on Wednesday, April 21st, when their daughter, Mary O. Haskell, was united in marriage with Mr. Wallace C. Theboden. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. P. Mackenzie in the presence of friends. The bride is one of our most refined young ladies and generally loved and respected. She has taught several terms of schools and has always had the love of her pupils. The groom is a young man well liked and highly esteemed. He is well known in Masonic circles. The many friends of the young couple wish them a happy and a long life. They left on the morning train Thursday for a trip to Boston and vicinity. Upon their return they will reside at South Lincoln.

In an Aroostook family during the past winter there was kept for a pet one of those cute little red squirrels. He has had the liberty of the house and was supposed to have passed his time in looking out of the window, wishing for spring, and abusing the cat. Last week the wife missed several pounds of rolls in searching through the chamber. Mr. Squirrel's nest was found over the shed. It was as large as a clothes basket and not only contained the rolls but several articles of clothing, such as stockings, summer hats, etc. On the inside was found a piece of mutton tallow, a cake of shaving soap, a pair of side comb, a piece of broken looking glass, a watch key, a dead mouse, a card of matches and a T. D. pipe. He has been given three days to leave the premises and if he does not go he will be court martialled and shot.

There are sometimes slips even after the cup has reached the lip, and some of the Swan's Island voters have learned this, judging from this report to the Ellsworth American: The voters in the new town are not Republicans and Democrats but incorporationists and anti-corporationists. Swan's Island has just held its first town meeting and it proved a Waterloo for the victors in the previous legislative fight. The meeting showed that the citizens opposing incorporating the plantation into a town were about two-thirds majority, "says one of the antis, "those in favor of incorporation being out voted by about that number. At 1 p. m. their ranks thinned out fast and at 2 p. m. there were but very few left in the house on the town side of the question," and then he can refrain from this parting shot: "It's hard to be deprived of the privilege of riding the horse so long coveted, now that they have got him safely into the stable."

The Blaine correspondent to the Star Herald, while commenting on a chap that was set at that place early in March, complains because he did not say whether the hen was set on eggs or old doorknobs, says the Parkhurst correspondent of the Northern Leader: We cannot say positively what the hen was set on but we do know that she hatched one chicken, and a little neighbor girl was engaged to take it home and nurse it till grass and bugs were abundant. The chicken, alleged to be a full blood Plymouth

The Redfern corset, which has the hearty endorsement of the famous costume maker, has come to Bangor Come to stay

Miss French, the representative of the New York office of the Redfern corsets, is with us for two weeks to "demonstrate" this superb corset and fit them when desired.

The Redfern This corset is a garment that on account of the perfect proportion of the lines and the gored front is designated for comfort as well as for artistic effect The gored front enables the corset to become moulded perfectly to the curves of the figure, while the long waist and skirt give a slight, trim effect to the form

Better Than Others Yes, the Redfern is better than any other corset in that the above results are never attained by the expense of comfort and health

AMUSEMENTS

My Friend from India

"My Friend from India" which was given at the Opera House Saturday afternoon and night before good sized audiences, is one of those light weight comedies which can be described as funny when well acted but which have no great stamina It is after the plan of "Charley's Aunt" and such plays and while possessing no special merit serves to give a evening of light amusement without taxing the intellect The price of $1 admission was too stout for the entertainment offered

Messrs Donnelly and Girard who are well known to Bangor theatre goers and Miss Maud Granger are the principals of the company and naturally made the most of the roles of Erastus Underhill Kate Shavel and Mrs Beekman Streeter Mr Girard was especially successful in drawing laughs from the audience

To-night at The Norombega

The Norombega opens to-night for the spring season under the management of Messrs Murphy & Mackay The farce comedy "The Mahaddens" This is used as a vehicle for the introduction of the specialty artists Those who will appear this evening are Messrs Woodville and Hall, who are spoken of as comedians of ability and wit Morrissey and Proctor champion clog and reel dancers the Gleasons high class novelty act, Monte Forber acrobat and juggler, who will introduce his trick dog Pasha Miss Blanche Andrews the phenomenal soprano formerly with Sousa's band the Sousa King and other opera companies Mr James Macy, dramatic baritone Mr Albert Da Hington, champion buck and acrobatic dancer Miss Beatrice Hathaway, a charming soubrette Miss Rose Benard in popular songs, and the famous Irish comedian Mr Paddy Murphy, who will render his famous songs This vaudeville bill for the first time in Bangor should create a place for the "variety" and no doubt will make The Norombega a permanent vaudeville house No expense has been spared to please the people at the prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents

The Ensign

The popular naval drama The Ensign" will be presented at the Opera House this evening as the ushers benefit The success of "The Ensign" has been great it is claimed Its novelty, its stage settings, its character drawings, its patriotic fervor and the strength of the company are said to be pronounced The New York press has said a great deal in its praise The World summed it up as a thoroughly human play and the Times referred to it as "one of the most popular plays presented recently in New York"

Sousa's Band

The sale of seats for the Sousa concert opens this morning The concert will be given at City Hall next Thursday evening the 29th, and the usual big audience may be expected upon that occasion The term "Sousa's soloists" has grown to be synonymous with softness of tone, perfection of phrasing and unrivalled brilliancy of execution, on every solo instrument that goes to make up the rich and varied tonal effect of the wind orchestra While effort is directed toward making the ensemble playing of Sousa's band the conspicuous feature of its work and solo playing is therefore to some extent subordinate, it is nevertheless said to be a fact that there is not a single member of Sousa's organization who cannot publicly play an artistic and thoroughly satisfactory solo

It is almost needless to add that Sousa's soul stirring marches retain their place as permanent features of his repertoire and are given at every one with a swing and flash that set the nerves tingling and that the coming concerts in this city will arouse the musical enthusiasm to its highest pitch.

Deputy Sheriff J. D. Sherwood arrived in this city from Lincoln last evening with Frank Wilson, who is wanted at Lincoln on a charge of burglary. Wilson was arrested in Boston, where he is employed.

BADLY INJURED.

Mrs William Lord Struck by a Rearing Horse.

Saturday afternoon about 3 o clock as Frank Gibbs was driving on Main street about opposite the union waiting room his horse became frightened and suddenly reared When he came down his fore feet struck with much force in a carriage occupied by Mrs Dorothy J Lord, wife of William Lord who resides on Salem court, off State street

The animal's hoofs struck Mrs Lord and the carriage and broke the latter down to the ground The horse, carriage and occupant were mixed up in a confused mass for a few moments but the animal was quickly backed away and bystanders rushed to Mrs Lord's assistance She seemed to be badly injured and as soon as possible was taken to the Eastern Maine General Hospital being attended by physicians there

Upon examination it was found that no bones were broken but there were contusions about the head and chest As Mrs Lord is 70 years of age the injury and shock made her condition such as called for anxiety, but it is thought that she will fully recover in time Yesterday her condition was reported as being quite comfortable and with a good chance of recovery

Report by Whitehouse J

Exceptions to the rulings of the court directing a verdict for defendant

It is now well established in this State that the court may properly direct the jury to return a verdict for either party when it is apparent that a contrary verdict would not be allowed to stand

There is no evidence in this case that the defendant ever authorized Francis L Sargent her son to construct the wharf in question on her credit and the declarations of Sargent are only admissible when the agency is shown by other competent evidence and having no competent witness has testified that he was not employed by the defendant and was no agent in any way at any rate

We think the conclusion announced in the Court at Belfast was the only correct one that the evidence would justify

Exceptions overruled

Charles L Richards vs Daniel I Hoxie et al

Report by Whitehouse J

Assumpsit to enforce a lien claim on certain logs

The defendant contracted to haul certain logs and in making up his team took hold of the plaintiff's horse, doubtful as to his ownership and looking at the mark on the horse's mouth during part of the time the horse was used alone and part of the time with another horse of the defendant during all the time the horse was driven by an employee of the defendant and was under defendant's control the plaintiff was not engaged to drive the horse or perform any labor in connection with the logs

Upon these facts the court holds that the plaintiff is not entitled to a lien on the logs He did not within the meaning of the statute labor "cutting hauling or driving said logs or lumber and therefore is not entitled to a lien thereon for the amount due for his personal services and for the services performed by his team

The plaintiff is entitled to judgment against defendants personally

Judgment for plaintiff for $3 with interest from the date of the writ

For Firemen's Relief Fund

Mr L Nichols has generously presented Chief Engineer Mason $60 for the relief fund of the fire department with the following note

Dear Sir Appreciating more than I can express in words the value of your personal services and the services of the fire department in general in saving the Grand Central block and stables from destruction by fire, which occurred on the 13th inst, and realizing how great risks the firemen usually are obliged to run in performing their duty and that it has sometimes occurred that members of the department are injured and laid aside for many weeks at large expense, I desire as a small token of my appreciation and gratitude to endorse my check for $60 to be added to the general relief fund of the Bangor Fire Department Please accept the same with my best wishes for each and all concerned

Yours respectfully,

Lemuel Nichols

Death of Miss Harriet E Brown

After several months of suffering Miss Harriet Ellen Brown passed away last evening at the home of her brother, Mr William E Brown, where she had been removed during her illness Everything possible was done for her but human skill did not avail against the deadly malady with which she was afflicted Miss Brown was the daughter of the late William G Brown, of this city, and had many friends here and elsewhere who will be pained to learn of her death She leaves two brothers, the one above mentioned, and Mr. George Brown, of Boston. Her age was 42 years and 6 months. The arrangements for the funeral are not yet completed

FOUND THE KEYS.

Officers Also Discovered Kelley's Blood Stained Clothing and False Whiskers

Somersworth N H April 24 Deputy Sheriff McDaniel and Wm H Rich, of Berwick, searched the room of Joseph E Kelley in Mrs Wilkinson's boarding house in Berwick this evening and found the keys of the Great Falls National Bank which were taken from Cashier Stickney's pocket by Kelley at the time of the murder

Among other things the officers found a box containing a dark moustache and a goatee

These articles were found in the chimney of the house where Kelley dropped them through a funnel hole after his return from the orchard In the corner of the room the officers discovered a white shirt on the sleeve of which were some blood spots The latter piece of evidence is considered important as having a bearing on the disposition of the reward

SUICIDES AT SEA.

Two Men Jumped Overboard from Ocean Steamers

New York April 26 Two suicides at sea were reported from ocean steamers arriving today

The steamer Wilmar from Bremen reported that in steerage passenger Gottlieb Strauss an American born tailor who was returning to his home in New York in the West, jumped overboard and was drowned on April 22

J Gascogoo reported that on April 17, Rudolph Siebrecht, a Hungarian, who was a steerage passenger was discovered to be missing He was supposed to have jumped overboard

CALAIS CONFERENCE.

Final Reports of the Committees And Other Exercises

Calais, Me, April 25 Most of the committees of the Methodist conference made their final reports to day This morning the financial report of the Rev D B Dow conference treasurer, showed an increase of more than $[illegible] for the year

In the case of Charles H McElfresh of Milltown who was suspended for unchristian conduct a year ago, the special committee found that, though he had in a limited measure broken over the decree of suspension, to discipline by cause for further action could not be brought against him

The vote on the admission of women to the general conference was 62 to 28 in favor

The vote for equal representation of ministerial and laymen membership to the same body was 71 to 18 in favor

Mr C A Plummer opened the afternoon session by reporting that the trustees had received a check for $300 in behalf of superannuated preachers and another of $100 for the health institute

J M Frost presented the report of the Church Extension Society and S T Hanscom the Temperance

An attempt to pass a resolution requesting the bishop to appoint the East Maine conference colored M y failed

This evening the church extension anniversary was held in the Congregational church The address was delivered by Secretary Spencer who showed the magnitude of the work during the past year 600 additional churches having been established in new places and more than 12,000 new churches having taken the place of old ones Thirty nine million dollars represents the gain in church property during the same period and the increase in congregations has been so great that more than 1,000 are at present unsheltered

The next conference will be held at Bangor in Grace church

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Augusta Man Fired Two Shots at His Wife Then Put Bullet in Own Head

Augusta Me, April 24 Fred Anderson 40 years old in a temporary fit of insanity, fired two shots at his wife this afternoon both missing her He, doubtless thinking her dead turned the weapon upon his self and fired the bullet plunging from over his right temple out through the right eye He will probably live

The escape of Mrs Anderson is wonderful enough But Husband fired the bullet by the shoulder with one hand reaching for the revolver in his hip pocket with the other, saying "We might as well die and be done with it" She broke away from him As she ran from the barn where they had been standing he fired the first shot which just escaped her

Burglary at Winslow

Augusta, Me, April 26 A Journal special from Winslow says A K Mason's store was burglarized Friday night, a quantity of dry goods and clothing being taken.

The Lake Auburn Hoax

A lively meeting of the Auburn citizens was held in the municipal court room Monday evening at 8 o'clock, Thursday Messrs Sanborn and Oakes the commission were present the object of the meeting being to discuss the local fish question the interpretation of law which prohibits the taking of fish from the lake in free from the forty men were present who had ample opportunity to express their views of the matter The lake is supposed to be lawful to fish with the hook and line but it was claimed by the settlement witness that the law was not intended to be such, that the law was amended by the legislature so that fishing with gill nets in the lake is authorized It is not when three quarters of the fish caught were reduced so that the boats and the seine were used in the lake Gideon Ward who was the prosecuting witness in the Auburn trial of fishers was present and testified that the case of the fishers was dismissed by the court on the ground that the case of the fishers was not convicted for fishing in the lake but had been dismissed by the court The witness testified that he was stationed by the Auburn Street Railway company under pecuniary consideration to prevent the violation of the law by the fishers and would continue to do so in Auburn As the matter will be taken up in the Auburn City Council the committee will have to wait for further action
